Create. Enhance. Sustain.

On October 17, 2014, URS Corporation joined the AECOM family of companies. Now with nearly 100,000 employees – including architects, engineers, designers, planners, scientists and management and construction services professionals – we serve clients in more than 150 countries around the world. Our combined company offers clients greater scale and resources which enables them fully integrated services to achieve their mission anywhere in the world.

Transportation clients of both AECOM and URS benefit from our greater scale and resources to provide fully integrated services across a broad range of projects. From transportation planning, safety analysis, and traffic impact studies to design of pavement marking, highway lighting, or roundabouts, we recognize that every project faces unique challenges and take pride in developing inspired, sustainable solutions for our clients. Limitless solutions that overcome the human mobility challenges of our constantly growing society are the hallmark of the new AECOM.
